About our School

At Park Slope 282, our mission is to engage students, staff, parents and the community in providing rich, project-based learning experiences while supporting our students' social emotional development. We believe this will be done by fostering meaningful relationships within our school community and establishing high expectations for all to ensure that our students dream, believe, excel and achieve.

Supporting the cognitive, emotional and physical intelligences of young children helps to put the pieces together on how to close the achievement and opportunity gap of our children. We achieve this coming together as a team, using our combined set of skills and resources to maximize the potential of all of our students. This requires:

- Understanding and nurturing the social, emotional, physical, and cognitive needs of every child.
- Knowing and celebrating the creativity and interests that students bring to school.
- Engaging students to highlight their diverse gifts and talents.
- Cultivating resilience in students to help them persevere in their daily learning experiences.

Partnering with Families and Our School Community

A strong partnership between students, families, staff, and the broader community is essential to our success.

Family engagement happens every day through the integration of our school's culture, resources, and community members. This partnership is strengthened by building relationships founded on mutual trust, respect, and a shared commitment to supporting each child's growth and achievement.

Parent Concerns

If you are concerned that your child is struggling academically and may need an evaluation for special education services, please speak with your child's teacher. If the teacher agrees with your concerns, they may begin with informal classroom interventions and/or write a letter to the School-Based Support Team (SBST) requesting a formal evaluation.

A school psychologist will then assess your child's needs, following New York City Public Schools (NYCPS) guidelines. These regulations require that a student must be performing below grade level in order to qualify for academic support services.

Academic services are provided when there is a diagnosed need and the student is functioning below grade level in at least one area.

Related services—such as occupational therapy (OT), physical therapy (PT), speech therapy, or counseling—may be recommended if a diagnosed issue is negatively impacting the student's ability to perform at grade level.

In the Know

Income Verification Form Formerly known as the Lunch Form, the Income Verification Form can now be completed online and is available in Spanish and other languages.

Filling out this form helps New York City Public Schools determine what percentage of families in our school community are economically disadvantaged. If a significant percentage qualifies, our school may become eligible for Title 1 funding — critical federal funds that we do not currently receive.

Your participation matters. Even if your child does not eat school lunch, completing the form can help bring valuable resources to our school.

Homework

Grades K–2:

Homework is optional and may be completed at the discretion of families. The primary focus in these early years is on developing a love for learning and building foundational skills through play, exploration, and family engagement.

Grades 3–5:

Homework may be assigned to:

- Extend and reinforce learning from class
- Broaden classroom experiences
- Develop self-discipline, personal responsibility, independent thinking, and study habits
- Support individual strengths, learning styles, interests, and talents

All Grades:

No homework will be assigned over weekends to allow students time for rest, family activities, and personal interests.

Homework Help

Call Dial-A-Teacher at (212) 777-3380. This United Federation of Teacher sponsored helpline, staffed by highly skilled teachers, offers help in all subjects in eight (8) languages. They don't give answers – just enough coaching to let children complete assignments on their own, or help parents understand what's going on in math. The helpline is open Monday through Friday 4pm – 7pm.

Immunization Policy

Every student must meet the immunization requirements set out by the NYC Department of Health and Mental Hygiene in the School Immunization Requirements. Any child who does not meet the immunization requirements within the stated period will be issued an exclusion letter and excluded from school until the requirements are met. For additional information, please visit Immunizations \(nyc.gov\) Additional information regarding immunization can be found here.

PS 282 Park Slope School Assessment and Grading Policy

Philosophy: We believe assessment is an ongoing, progressive and holistic process. Through a variety of engaging and observable learning experiences students acquire an understanding of concepts, knowledge, skills, develop attitudes and attributes and make decisions to take action. All students are unique and possess varying skills, knowledge and abilities, which can be identified through assessments.

Mission Statement: The mission of The Park Slope School community is to develop lifelong learners and globally-minded citizens by fostering the academic, creative, and social skills needed to achieve excellence in a multicultural environment. Stakeholders work as a community where; we embrace differences, explore individuality and work to create a more peaceful and equitable world around us.

Purpose: The purpose of this document is to clarify the assessment process within our school community and its evolution to reflect our school's needs. It will be implemented across all grade levels and will provide a context for reflection. These reflections will guide instruction as well as give students opportunities to improve concentration and focus, foster and develop creativity, critical thinking and meta-cognitive skills. This policy is in alignment with the school's mission statement.

We assess our students in order to:

- Provide students with the tools and opportunity for self-reflection and improvement in their studies.
- Inform instruction and planning
- Provide feedback and guide learning
- Celebrate student progress and performance
- Allow opportunity for goal setting
- Provide parents with information to understand and appreciate their children's efforts, progress and achievement over time.

Characteristics of Effective Assessments:

- Assessment practices and evaluations are balanced to provide multiple opportunities for students to demonstrate their understanding fair

- C4.7: The school analyzes assessment data to inform teaching and learning.
- C4.8: The school provides opportunities for students to participate in, and reflect on, the assessment of their work

School Comprehensive Education Plan: Curriculum Development and Support

The school has rigorous and coherent curricula and assessments that are appropriately aligned to the common core learning standards for all students and are modified for identified subgroups in order to maximize teacher instructional practices and student learning outcomes.

Actions

- All students will set academic goals regarding literacy and mathematics. Teachers will provide feedback to students to assist them in attaining their goals.
- All students will generate a project based on their understanding of the focus unit.

Teacher Practice and Decision

Teachers will utilize formal and informal data to assess students' level of standard mastery in order to strategically plan interventions to mitigate the learning gaps. Researched based practices, learning styles, and individual students needs will be addressed so that all students and pertinent subgroups experience consistent high levels of engagement, thinking, and achievement. (or growth)

Assessment Categories

- Pre-assessments are administered before students begin a lesson or unit. Students are not necessarily expected to know most, or even any, of the material evaluated by pre-assessments—they are generally used to (1) establish a baseline against which educators measure learning progress over the duration of a program, course, or instructional period, or (2) determine general academic readiness for a course, program, grade level, or new academic program that student may be transferring into.
- Formative assessments are tools frequently administered to gauge student conceptual understanding and skill level. Data collected from formative assessments inform teachers and students and help them to determine course of action. Measurements provide

INSPIRING A LIFETIME LEARNING - DREAM, BELIEVE, EXCEL AND ACHIEVE

PARK SLOPE
DREAM. BELIEVE. EXCEL. ACHIEVE.

understanding as to the need for academic intervention, acceleration, and/or other modifications. The purpose of this assessment is to improve student learning and to provide feedback. Reflection upon the feedback yields growth and student autonomy. The feedback should inspire goal setting.

Examples include but are not limited to:

- Pre-tests
- Entrance and exit tickets
- Annotations
- Graphic organizers
- Reflections
- Gallery Walks
- On-demand writing prompts
- Thinking Routines

Summative assessments are tools used to determine student mastery of grade level skills, content and concepts. This assessment is usually administered or evaluated at the end of an instructional unit. It measures the level of proficiency as it relates to a standards-based level of achievement. The purpose of this assessment is to monitor student learning and retention of understanding. Examples include but are not limited to:

- Presentations
- Individual or Group Projects
- Portfolio Exhibitions
- Traditional End of Unit Assessments
- Examinations

Self-assessments are ongoing throughout the unit. Student self-assessment involves students in evaluating their own work and learning progress. Self-assessment is a valuable learning tool as well as part of an assessment process. Through self-assessment, students can identify their areas for growth in acquisition of knowledge and skill development. Students will then use this self assessment to set goals including how they will work towards development in these areas.

- (1) Experiencing Difficulty- At this time, the child is unable to complete tasks or exhibit appropriate behavior without assistance.

The classroom teachers shall be guided by the criteria set forth for grading students. They will use the following factors to calculate the achievement and performance of the students in assigning quarterly grades:

- Progress and Proficiency: feedback and grades are focused on students progress and proficiency in achieving Next Generation Learning Standards both in direct instruction and performance throughout IB PYP Units of Inquiry. Grades in content areas will be measures of content knowledge. Priority is given to summative assessments and work that can be measured against established standards and rubrics.
- Approaches to Learning: students' approaches to learning will be graded separately in their Approaches to Learning, which include:
 - Thinking Skills:
 - Critical-thinking skills (Analyzing and evaluating issues and ideas).
 - Creative-thinking skills (Generating novel ideas and considering new perspectives).
 - Transfer skills (Using skills and knowledge in multiple contexts).

Progress reports of each individual student's academic achievement will be issued periodically following an evaluation by the appropriate teacher(s) or other professional personnel. This report shall be based upon full information, accurately and honestly reported with proper maintenance of confidentiality. Copies of letters sent to parents/guardians relating to a particular situation or problem should be kept in student folders.

In addition to these periodic reports, parents shall be notified when a student's performance requires special attention. Parents are urged to visit the school and confer with teachers.

Parent/Guardian-Teacher Conference

Teachers meet with parent(s)/guardian(s) to discuss student challenges and progress. When a parent requests a conference with a teacher, the teacher shall make every effort to arrange a mutually convenient time. Such conferences should be scheduled around the school day so as not to interfere with the instructional process. Teachers should notify the appropriate Building Principal in advance of such conferences.

Conferences may include but are not limited to:

- Communicating student achievement to parent
- Goal setting
- Review of objectives and tasks
- Review of data and artifacts collected
- Presentation of growth
- Student-Led conferencing*
- IB PYP Exhibition (5th only) *

*A student-led conference is a conference with parents led by the student. This conference offers the student the opportunity to self-reflect on their learning and set goals. It demonstrates their communication skills and attributes of the learner profile. This gives parents a clear insight into the kind of work the student is doing. The role of the classroom teacher is a facilitator in the conference process. (Student agency may be included)

*The IB PYP Exhibition represents a unique and significant opportunity for students to exhibit the attributes of the IB learner profile developed throughout their engagement with the PYP. The exhibition involves students working collaboratively to conduct an in-depth inquiry into real life issues or problems. Students collectively synthesize all of the essential elements of the PYP in ways that can be shared with the whole school community.

Become a Class Parent – The Class Parent provides a critical link between the parents and the classroom teacher, the PTO and School Administration. There can be one or co-class parents per class.

Assisting as a Class Parent may vary from teacher to teacher. Please be sure to check in with your child's teacher for ways in which you can assist with their needs.

- Facilitate communications between the parents in your class, and social engagements for the kids:

PARK SLOPE
SCHOOL 282

- Introduce yourself so the parents in your classroom know who you are and ask other parents to help you with your tasks.
- Create and maintain a distribution list to communicate regularly with other parents in the class.

The Class Parent list should not be used for personal or commercial gain, and parents should not be added to outside mailing lists without consent.

Schedule meetups for the kids/parents in your class.

Set up a group for quick communications.

Be the CONNECTION between the Parent Coordinator, PTO and your classroom. We encourage you to attend PTO meetings to help the Parent Coordinator and PTO stay in-the-loop by bringing opportunities or challenges to the PC and PTO's attention, and also taking information shared at meetings back to your classrooms to relay.

- Attend PTO meetings and as your schedule allows.
- Encourage parents to attend upcoming PTO meetings
- Communicate and rally support for PTO events and fundraisers.
- Share important news from Curriculum Night and PTO meetings.
- Recruit volunteers from your class for events and school activities.

Class Parent Roles and Responsibilities

Each teacher brings a unique set of skills and may have different expectations for the Class Parent role. While some may request assistance with email lists or class communications, others may prefer to manage these tasks themselves.

We encourage you to schedule a brief meeting with your child's teacher to review the suggested responsibilities (listed below) and determine how you can best support the class.

Please note:

- All classroom policies—including conduct, guidelines, and health and safety protocols—are set by the teacher and NYCPS.
- Class Parents may help communicate these policies but do not make decisions regarding them.
- For any questions or concerns, parents should reach out directly to NYCPS staff or the classroom teacher.

Organizing Teacher Gifts

Before the holidays and at the end of the school year, families may choose to show appreciation for teachers with a collective gift. NYCPS allows small group (class) gifts within their guidelines.

Please note:

- Participation is completely voluntary; no parent is required to contribute.
- All students/families will be included on the card, regardless of contribution, in accordance with NYCPS policy.
- A class gift is intended as a thoughtful, modest gesture of appreciation for your teacher's hard work and dedication.
